ROCHESTER

The Rochester Chapter of the UB Law Alumni Association, now in its third year, held its annual luncheon at Stouffer's Rochester Plaza in May. Speaking on the topic of "Attorneys' Ethics and Clients' Funds" were Hon. M. Dolores Denman, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, Fourth Department; and Richard J. Evans, a member of the firm of Harris, Maloney, Horwitz, Evans & Fox.

Judge Denman gave an overview of the Appellate Division's authority and responsibility for the conduct and discipline of attorneys and shared poignant anecdotes about attorneys who were guilty of commingling funds. Evans spoke on the disciplinary rule governing zealous client representation and on the role of lawyer-to-lawyer courtesy under the Disciplinary Rules.

On Thursday, Nov. 30, new lawyers were entertained at a reception held in the atrium of Harris, Beach, Wilcox, Rubin & Levey.
