Dear Friends of UB Law School:

First, I want to thank you for your generous support during the past year. Your contributions to the School have been vital for the maintenance of key parts of our academic program and for other important activities.

I am happy to report that the School remains vigorous and continues to grow in reputation and quality of program and student body. The scholarship of our outstanding faculty continues to earn national attention and adds to the School’s recognition. Our clinic programs are both strong and innovative and are being used as models at other leading schools. Our graduates are welcome throughout the country. Alumni clubs are active in Rochester, Albany, New York City, and Washington, with new groups being planned in Syracuse and Chicago.

At the same time, there are clouds on the horizon. You are all aware, I am sure, of the growing fiscal crisis in state government and will not be surprised that it has serious implications for the University and the Law School. We have already absorbed one substantial cut in state funding with another reduction to follow shortly. The next academic year is expected to bring even more serious financial problems.

The School, like the rest of the University, will become increasingly dependent upon private funding. For the Law School, alumni support already constitutes a large share of our budget and your contributions will be increasingly critical to maintaining core functions.

Better times will, of course, come again. But in the meantime, I am confident that we at the School can continue to count on your support.

Finally, I want again to express our sincere appreciation to you for making our 1989-90 annual fund drive a resounding success. All of us at the School — students, faculty and staff — are grateful for your help and support.

Sincerely,

David B. Filvaroff
Dean and Professor of Law

Dear UB Alumni/ae,

I am pleased to announce that our annual fund drive during the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1990 was the most successful ever. Alumni/ae, students, faculty and friends contributed $239,000 to support the Law School in addition to a number of endowed gifts made to scholarship funds.

The record year resulted from the hard work of Peter J. Fiorella Jr., our national chair, his board of directors and the many students and alumni/ae who made telephone calls to solicit gifts either during our phonathons or prior to each of our Dean’s Dinners. I very much appreciate the many hours they gave to help us surpass our goal by $4,000. I want to extend a special thanks to the law firm of Saperston and Day, which graciously allowed us to invade their facilities each night of our phonathon.

This success could not have come at a better time. With the recent budget cuts throughout the state university system, the Law School now depends more heavily than ever on private funding. Many essential programs would have to be eliminated or significantly reduced without this support.

The following list reflects contributions made during this campaign. While we have taken great care to be accurate, errors may exist. If there is a mistake with respect to your gift, please accept my apology. I hope you advise me of any errors you notice, so a correction can be made in the next issue of the Forum.

My personal thanks go to each of you who helped us surpass our goal. The Law School will remain strong because of your generosity.

Sincerely,

Alan S. Carrel
Associate Dean
