ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The purpose of the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review has always been to promote awareness, knowledge and to further discussions on matters pertaining to human right issues. Our Editorial Board has worked hard to present the following articles to you in the hopes that Volume 24 will continue to promote awareness and further the conversation regarding human right issues.

The authors showcased in this issue are outstanding and I am so very appreciative of their trust in allowing us to publish their latest works. A most special thank you to Sohail Wahedi, Ursula Tracy Doyle and Jamelia Morgan. Thank you for your help and patience with our editing process.

This year we encountered the unique issue of having a very small Editorial Board. Although this was challenging at times, I would like to thank my Editorial Board, as well as our associates for stepping up and working tirelessly working over the past year to produce this publication. Without your passion, dedication and diligence, Volume 24 would not have been possible. I also would like to thank Professor Tara Melish, Director of the Buffalo Human Rights Center, and Professor Christine Bartholomew, for their knowledge, insight and guidance.

Finally, I would like to wish the incoming Editorial Board the best of luck as they begin to work on Volume 25 of the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review.

Thank you for taking the time to read this issue of the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review. I hope you enjoyed reading Volume 24 as much as we enjoyed editing it.

Jessica Gill
