

Buffalo Human Rights Law Review

---

Volume 27

Article 5

---

9-1-2021

Acknowledgments

Buffalo Human Rights Law Review

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.law.buffalo.edu/bhrlr>

---

Recommended Citation

Buffalo Human Rights Law Review, Acknowledgments, 27 Buff. Hum. Rts. L. Rev. (2021).

Available at: <https://digitalcommons.law.buffalo.edu/bhrlr/vol27/iss1/5>

This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the Law Journals at Digital Commons @ University at Buffalo School of Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Buffalo Human Rights Law Review by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ University at Buffalo School of Law. For more information, please contact lawscholar@buffalo.edu.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Buffalo Human Rights Law Review provides a platform to further discussions on popular human rights issues, while also shedding light on issues falling into the background. For the 27th volume of the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review, this year's Editorial Board sought to publish pieces giving insight into the hardships faced by vulnerable populations and approaches taken by countries to address those hardships. The 2020-2021 Editorial Board has worked fiercely to present the following articles, shining light on the problems we face as a global society.

The authors featured in this issue are distinguished individuals, each a professional of the highest order. They are dedicated deeply to the topics showcased in their articles. We are extremely appreciative of their trust and their everlasting patience in allowing the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review to publish their pieces. Thank you to Edwin Abuya, Jane Githinji, Tamar Hostovsky Brandes, Shai Farber, and Sharon Rivilin Achai for your enthusiasm, insight, and assistance throughout the editing process.

Volume 27 would not be possible without the dedication, commitment and unwavering hard work of our fellow Editorial Board members. Thank you, Allana, Stephi, Jaynie, April, Rachel, and Morgan, for all you've done for this volume. We also would like to thank Professor Tara Melish for your guidance and support throughout this process. Finally, we would like to wish the incoming Editorial Board the best of luck as they begin to work on Volume 28 of the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review, and commend them for carrying on the legacy of this Law Review.

Thank you for taking the time to read this issue of the Buffalo Human Rights Law Review. We hope reading Volume 27 broadens your horizons, inspires your intellect, and deepens your conversations surrounding these important issues.

Stephen Soos & Alyssa LoGrasso
Editor-in-Chief and Executive Editor