REUNIONS

1951

Every year since 1953, the Class of 1951 has held a Law School reunion. To celebrate their 40th in a special way, they held an elegant dinner on Saturday, June 22, at Fanny's Restaurant, in Amherst, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. George Kassman organized the party, and Rogers served as master of ceremonies.

According to Rogers, "We're all very close. It's important that the class stays together and everyone keeps in touch. You develop a special regard for your classmates."

1966

For their 25th Law School reunion, 16 members of the Class of 1966 and Dean Jacob D. Hyman celebrated with dinner at Shayleen's Restaurant, in Buffalo, on May 18, 1991. "It was a small class, and most of us now live out of state," said Courtland R. LaVallee, who chaired the event. Mary Ellen Murphy Borja came up from Florida and Delores T. Trojnar came from Virginia to be reunited with their classmates. "We talked about ourselves and brought everyone up to date. It was a lot of fun," said LaVallee. David G. Jay and Thomas M. Ward were also organizers.

1980

Marking the first decade after the law school, the Class of 1980 enjoyed a cocktail party Oct. 27 in the lobby of the Chemical Bank Building, in Buffalo, then sat down to a buffet dinner in Shayleen's. Afterwards, many of the classmates walked over to Ragtops and stayed til closing. "We had a ball dancing, drinking and talking," said Kenneth A. Patricia, chair. "It was absolutely wonderful." Steven P. Curvin was co-chair.

1981

The Class of 1981 planned numerous activities for their reunion week-end Friday, June 7 to Sunday, June 9. Many played golf, others enjoyed wings and beer at Rooties, while some visited the Allentown Art Festival and the Buffalo Zoo. The highlight was a formal dinner-dance at the Hyatt Hotel. Classmates came from as far away as California and Utah. "A lot of us have kept in touch," said Douglas Johnston, who with his wife Nancy and Peggy Fabric headed their Reunion Committee. "It was great to see what happened to everyone." They were aided by Leslie Wolffe Berkovits, Gary R. Gaffney, Annette M. Sansone, Chris G. Trapp and Terri Wincott.
