

10-1-2004

Mentoring Program Draws National Attention

UB Law Forum

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.law.buffalo.edu/ub_law_forum

Recommended Citation

UB Law Forum (2004) "Mentoring Program Draws National Attention," UB Law Forum: Vol. 17 : No. 1 , Article 13.

Available at: https://digitalcommons.law.buffalo.edu/ub_law_forum/vol17/iss1/13

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Alumni Publications at Digital Commons @ University at Buffalo School of Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in UB Law Forum by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ University at Buffalo School of Law. For more information, please contact lawscholar@buffalo.edu.

Law School Report

Huiqun (Cindy) Zhu '06 and Richard C. Heffern '69.

Approximately 350 mentors and mentees met for the first time in February at the Center for Tomorrow.

Robert B. Conklin '68 and Alexandra Maloney '06.

Patricia Potts '99, Fan Zhang '06 and Dominika Talianis '06

Bryn D. Powell '06 and Ronald J. Winter '81.

Mentoring magic

UB law School has put into place a wide-ranging mentoring program that has drawn national attention in the National Jurist magazine. Each member of the first-year class is matched with one of more than 200 mentors who are practicing lawyers or judges. Students and mentors are matched according to their interests, and the relationship is expected to continue throughout their law school years. Students find that mentors are invaluable as they approach the big decisions that have to be made with respect to choosing a career path. If you want to become a mentor, call Lisa Patterson, associate dean for career services, at (716) 645-2056 or e-mail her at lpatter@buffalo.edu.

Photos by Don Dannecker

Jenelle A. Callender '06 and Mary Enright Fleming '85.