10-1-2006

New to the DAC: Dean's Board Has Grown with the Addition of 15 New Members

UB Law Forum

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.law.buffalo.edu/ub_law_forum

Recommended Citation
Available at: https://digitalcommons.law.buffalo.edu/ub_law_forum/vol19/iss1/17

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Alumni Publications at Digital Commons @ University at Buffalo School of Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in UB Law Forum by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ University at Buffalo School of Law. For more information, please contact lawscholar@buffalo.edu.
New to the DAC

Dean’s board has grown with the addition of 15 new members

Dr. Roy E. Fitzgerald III '87 is a founding shareholder of Page, Mitchek, Fitzgerald & Rose in West Palm Beach, Fla. He concentrates his practice in the areas of commercial litigation and appeals, including complex litigation, business torts and contract breach. In addition to the J.D., he also earned a Ph.D. from the University at Buffalo.

A partner in the Buffalo law firm HodgsonRuss, Garry M. Graber ’78 practices bankruptcy, corporate and financial restructuring, commercial and corporate litigation, and general business law. A past president of the Law Alumni Association and Bar Association of Erie County, Graber has taught bankruptcy at UB Law School since 1993 and has lectured extensively on U.S. and cross-border bankruptcy and commercial law topics.

Morgan G. Graham is managing partner of Phillips Lytle in Buffalo, and practices environmental law. His focuses include prosecution and defense of Superfund cost recovery actions, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act proceedings, Clean Water Act and Clean Air Act litigation, and facility compliance. He is a board member of the Buffalo Therapeutic Riding Center and the Buffalo & Erie County Historical Society.

With an engineering background, Paul J. Konickzki ’86 practices intellectual property law with the Chicago law firm Lydick, Voit & Mayer. His work includes preparing and prosecuting U.S. and international patent applications, with primary focus on the mechanical and electro-mechanical arts. Konickzki has extensive experience in patent infringement litigation and has been heavily involved in foreign patent oppositions and litigation in the United Kingdom, West Germany, Japan and France.

A prominent matrimonial and business attorney, Allan D. Manett ’76 is a partner in the New York City law firm Stein Riso Manett. Manett has represented many prominent and high-net-worth clients in their divorce, custody and estate matters, and continues to serve as general counsel to many of his clients’ successful business enterprises. He is president of the New York chapter of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers.

Trista E. Ross ’92 has served since 1995 as an assistant U.S. attorney with the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Western District of New York. She has investigated and prosecuted crimes including financial fraud, civil rights violations, money laundering, bank robberies and kidnapping. Ross also has taught as an adjunct and, in recent years, has taught a seminar in criminal law at the University at Buffalo.

Barbara L. Schelling ’84 is a partner in the Buffalo law firm Damon & Morey, practicing medical malpractice defense and environmental coverage litigation. She serves as a member of both the Management and Client Development Committees and is co-chair of the firm’s Health Care Practice Group. Schelling has written many articles and has served as an adjunct faculty member in UB Law School. She is a member and officer of the board of directors of the WYCA.

A partner at Fried Frank Harris Shriver & Jacobson in New York City, Robert C. Schwenk ’82 chairs the firm’s world-wide corporate department and heads the firm’s Private Equity Practice. He has a diverse transactional corporate practice concentrating in private equity and mergers and acquisitions. He is an editor and contributor to “PEPTalk,” the firm’s newsletter for private equity professionals, and he co-chairs an annual seminar sponsored by the Practising Law Institute, “Advanced Doing Deals.”

Mark Jay Weinstein ’81, a partner in the New York City firm Hogan & Hartson, is an attorney adviser and strategist to the world’s largest communications and media conglomerates, including businesses in media, sports, entertainment and technology. He structures, negotiates and finalizes multi-party, cross-border joint venture arrangements among major international corporations. He is a practice group director for the firm’s tax practice.

Jeffrey D. Williams ’90 works at Pfizer Inc. in New York City as deputy chief compliance officer and senior corporate counsel in the Corporate Compliance Group. He joined the firm in 2001 and was asked to join the Corporate Compliance Group in 2003. At UB Law, he was editor in chief of the Buffalo Law Review.

Margaret W. Wong ’76 is managing partner of Margaret W. Wong & Associates in Cleveland, with additional offices in Columbus, Ohio, and Detroit. Her firm is known nationally and internationally for its practice in immigration and naturalization law. A board member of numerous civic organizations, she has won many local and national awards.

The Dean’s Advisory Council at UB Law School has changed substantially this fall with the addition of 15 distinguished new members to replace those whose terms have expired. Here is a quick look at the new voices who will help advise the dean on ways to shape the Law School’s future.

Brian D. Baird ’83 practices in the areas of estate planning, wills and trusts, estate administration, and general business law at the Western New York law firm Arent Fox, where he serves as co-chair of the Bankruptcy and Financial Restructuring Group. His practice includes representation of debtors, creditors, indenture trustees and committees in bankruptcy court cases, as well as creditors, indenture trustees and committees in out-of-court negotiations, insurance defense/personal injury matters, and corporate litigation, and general business law.

A past president of the Law Alumni Association and Bar Association of Erie County, Graber has taught bankruptcy at UB Law School since 1993 and has lectured extensively on U.S. and cross-border bankruptcy and commercial law topics.

Morgan G. Graham is managing partner of Phillips Lytle in Buffalo, and practices environmental law. His focuses include prosecution and defense of Superfund cost recovery actions, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act proceedings, Clean Water Act and Clean Air Act litigation, and facility compliance. He is a board member of the Buffalo Therapeutic Riding Center and the Buffalo & Erie County Historical Society.

With an engineering background, Paul J. Konickzki ’86 practices intellectual property law with the Chicago law firm Lydick, Voit & Mayer. His work includes preparing and prosecuting U.S. and international patent applications, with primary focus on the mechanical and electro-mechanical arts. Konickzki has extensive experience in patent infringement litigation and has been heavily involved in foreign patent oppositions and litigation in the United Kingdom, West Germany, Japan and France.

A prominent matrimonial and business attorney, Allan D. Manett ’76 is a partner in the New York City law firm Stein Riso Manett. Manett has represented many prominent and high-net-worth clients in their divorce, custody and estate matters, and continues to serve as general counsel to many of his clients’ successful business enterprises. He is president of the New York chapter of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers.

Trista E. Ross ’92 has served since 1995 as an assistant U.S. attorney with the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Western District of New York. She has investigated and prosecuted crimes including financial fraud, civil rights violations, money laundering, bank robberies and kidnapping. Ross also has taught as an adjunct and, in recent years, has taught a seminar in criminal law at the University at Buffalo.

Barbara L. Schelling ’84 is a partner in the Buffalo law firm Damon & Morey, practicing medical malpractice defense and environmental coverage litigation. She serves as a member of both the Management and Client Development Committees and is co-chair of the firm’s Health Care Practice Group. Schelling has written many articles and has served as an adjunct faculty member in UB Law School. She is a member and officer of the board of directors of the WYCA.

A partner at Fried Frank Harris Shriver & Jacobson in New York City, Robert C. Schwenk ’82 chairs the firm’s world-wide corporate department and heads the firm’s Private Equity Practice. He has a diverse transactional corporate practice concentrating in private equity and mergers and acquisitions. He is an editor and contributor to “PEPTalk,” the firm’s newsletter for private equity professionals, and he co-chairs an annual seminar sponsored by the Practising Law Institute, “Advanced Doing Deals.”

Mark Jay Weinstein ’81, a partner in the New York City firm Hogan & Hartson, is an attorney adviser and strategist to the world’s largest communications and media conglomerates, including businesses in media, sports, entertainment and technology. He structures, negotiates and finalizes multi-party, cross-border joint venture arrangements among major international corporations. He is a practice group director for the firm’s tax practice.

Jeffrey D. Williams ’90 works at Pfizer Inc. in New York City as deputy chief compliance officer and senior corporate counsel in the Corporate Compliance Group. He joined the firm in 2001 and was asked to join the Corporate Compliance Group in 2003. At UB Law, he was editor in chief of the Buffalo Law Review.

Margaret W. Wong ’76 is managing partner of Margaret W. Wong & Associates in Cleveland, with additional offices in Columbus, Ohio, and Detroit. Her firm is known nationally and internationally for its practice in immigration and naturalization law. A board member of numerous civic organizations, she has won many local and national awards.
New to the DAC

Dean’s board has grown with the addition of 15 new members

The Dean’s Advisory Council at UB Law School has changed substantially this fall with the addition of 15 distinguished new members to replace those whose terms have expired. Here is a quick look at the new voices who will help advise the dean on ways to shape the Law School’s future.

Brian D. Baird ’83 practices in the areas of estate planning, wills and trusts, wealth management, and transactions. Baird, a partner in the Rochester/Buffalo private client practice of the law firm Carlin & Schifeling, has been active in numerous charitable organizations. As past president of the Rochester/Buffalo Bar Association and Bar Association of Erie County, Baird has concentrated his practice in matters of probate and trust administration and estate planning. Baird earned a B.A. from the University at Buffalo and a J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law.

Dr. Roy E. Fitzgerald III ’87 is a founding shareholder of Page, Mutchek, Fitzgerald & Rose in West Palm Beach, Fla. He concentrates his practice in the areas of commercial litigation and appeals, including complex litigation, business torts and contract breach. In addition to the J.D., he also earned a Ph.D. from the University at Buffalo.

A partner in the Buffalo law firm Hodgson Russ, Garry M. Graber ’78 practices bankruptcy, corporate and financial restructuring, commercial and corporate litigation, and general business law. A past president of the Law Alumni Association and Bar Association of Erie County, Graber has taught bankruptcy at UB Law School since 1995 and has lectured extensively on U.S. and cross-border bankruptcy and commercial law topics.

Morgan G. Graham is managing partner of Phillips Lytle in Buffalo, and practices environmental law. His focuses include prosecution and defense of Superfund cost recovery actions, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act proceedings, Clean Water Act and Clean Air Act litigation, and facility compliance. He is a board member of the Buffalo Therapeutic Riding Center and the Buffalo & Erie County Historical Society.

With an engineering background, Paul J. Korniczky ’96 practices intellectual property law with the Chicago law firm LeVay, Novak & Mayer. His work includes preparing and prosecuting U.S. and international patent applications, with primary focus on the mechanical and electro-mechanical arts. Korniczky has extensive experience in patent infringement litigation and has been heavily involved in foreign patent oppositions and litigation in the United Kingdom, Germany, Japan, France, Brazil, Singapore, and China.

Allan D. Mantel ’80 serves as co-chair of the Bankruptcy and Financial Restructuring Group. He practices in bankruptcy, corporate and financial restructuring, commercial and corporate litigation, and general business law. Mantel earned a B.A. from the University at Buffalo and a J.D. from the University of Michigan Law School.

Trini E. Ross ’92 has served since 1995 as an assistant U.S. Attorney with the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Western District of New York. She has investigated and prosecuted crimes including financial fraud, civil rights violations, money laundering, bank robberies and kidnap-napping. Ross also has taught as an adjunct faculty member at Western New York colleges and universities, including UB Law School.

Jeffery D. Williams ’90 works at Pfizer Inc. in New York City as deputy chief compliance officer and senior corporate counsel in the Corporate Compliance Group. He joined the firm in 2001 and was asked to join the Corporate Compliance Group in 2003. At UB Law, he was editor in chief of the Buffalo Law Review.

Margaret W. Wong ’76 is managing partner of Margaret W. Wong & Associates in Cleveland, with additional offices in Columbus, Ohio, and Detroit. Her firm is known nationally and internationally for its practice in immigration and nationality law. A board member of numerous civic organizations, she has won many local and national awards.